

Automotive Electrical and Engine Performance 8th Edition
Chapter 1 – Service Information, Work Orders, and Identification
Quiz B

1. What does the Vehicle Emissions Control Information (VECI) label include?
 - a. Engine oil capacity
 - b. Federal emission standard compliance
 - c. Fuel consumption rate
 - d. California and Federal EPA emission standards

2. Why is the Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) critical for service?
 - a. It identifies tire pressure settings
 - b. It provides a unique identifier for the vehicle
 - c. It lists past service records
 - d. It specifies recommended maintenance schedules

3. What is the primary purpose of technical service bulletins (TSBs)?
 - a. To notify owners of recalls
 - b. To provide emission standards for compliance
 - c. To improve customer satisfaction
 - d. To notify technicians of potential issues and their corrective actions

4. How is a campaign different from a recall?
 - a. Campaigns address non-safety performance improvements, while recalls focus on safety or emissions issues
 - b. Campaigns are legally required, whereas recalls are voluntary
 - c. Campaigns are issued by local dealers, while recalls are from manufacturers
 - d. Campaigns provide extended warranties, while recalls do not

5. Why is it important to document inspections and tests on a work order?
 - a. To ensure compliance with labor standards
 - b. To calculate the total cost of service
 - c. To create a detailed service history for troubleshooting future issues
 - d. To meet customer satisfaction surveys

6. What is the purpose of the service information provided by manufacturers?
 - a. To advertise new vehicle models
 - b. To comply with federal regulations on digital accessibility
 - c. To provide specifications and procedures for proper servicing
 - d. To track customer complaints

7. What is a primary feature of aftermarket service information systems like ALLDATA?
 - a. Unlimited free access to OEM databases
 - b. Integration with customer payment systems
 - c. Consolidated technical service bulletins and wiring diagrams
 - d. Real-time diagnostic tool compatibility

8. What is a flat rate used for in labor documentation?
 - a. To determine warranty coverage
 - b. To measure repair efficiency
 - c. To estimate time for service tasks and calculate costs
 - d. To allocate technician responsibilities

9. Where is the vehicle safety certification label typically located?

- a. Inside the engine bay near the radiator
- b. On the rear bumper near the license plate
- c. On the left-side pillar post of the driver's door
- d. Underneath the dashboard

10. What does a VIN character "5" as the first character represent?

- a. United States
- b. Mexico
- c. Canada
- d. Japan

Automotive Electrical and Engine Performance 8th Edition
Chapter 1 – Service Information, Work Orders, and Identification
Quiz B

Correct Answers:

1. d
2. a
3. d
4. b
5. c
6. a
7. c
8. d
9. c
10. a